

The Springfield Historical Society
presents
"Brewing in New Hampshire: An Informal History of Beer in the Granite State from Colonial Times to the Present"
A NH Humanities Council Program

On Thursday evening, October 8th, the Springfield Historical Society will feature Glenn Knoblock, independent scholar and author of 12 books and over 70 articles on topics ranging from New England bridges and New Hampshire history to African American military history.

For our program, Mr. Knoblock will explore the fascinating history of New Hampshire's beer and ale brewing industry from Colonial days, when it was home- and tavern-based, to today's modern breweries and brew pubs. Rare photos and ads will document this changing industry as well as society's changing attitudes towards beer and alcohol consumption over the years. Whether you are a beer connoisseur or a "tea totaler", this talk will be enjoyable for adults of all ages!

Our program will be held in the Town Meetinghouse at 23 Four Corners Rd. in Springfield, NH. Doors will open at 7:00 p.m. with light refreshments, and the program will begin at 7:15. The building is handicapped accessible and admission is free and open to the public. Please join us!! For directions or further information, call Donna Denniston at (603) 496-5462.
