

The Springfield Historical Society and
NH Humanities Council present
Jeff Warner: Songs of Old New Hampshire

On Thursday evening, October 10, 2013, at 7:15 p.m., the Springfield Historical Society will offer another outstanding NH Humanities Council program entitled “Songs of Old New Hampshire”. Our presenter, Jeff Warner, is among the nation’s foremost performer/interpreters of traditional music. His songs from the lumber camps, fishing villages and mountaintops of America connect 21st-century audiences with the every day lives and artistry of 19th century Americans. His traditional songs are rich in local history and a sense of place. Jeff has performed widely, from large festivals in the UK, to clubs, festivals and schools across America. He plays concertina, banjo, guitar and several “pocket” instruments including bones and spoons. A native of NYC, Jeff has lived in Portsmouth, NH since the late 1990’s. A speaker for the NH Humanities Council, he is also an artist for the NH Council on the Arts and has toured nationally for the Smithsonian Institution. He is a graduate of Duke University. His 1995 recording of “Two Little Boys” received a Parents Choice Award. This program will be held at the Springfield Town Meetinghouse at 23 Four Corners Rd, Springfield, NH and is free and open to the public. The building is handicapped accessible and refreshments will be served following the presentation. Please join us! For directions or further information, contact Donna Denniston at (603)496-5462.
